

“Broken Chain”

We little knew that day,
God was going to call your name.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death, we do the same.

It broke our hearts to lose you.
You did not go alone.
For part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.

You left us beautiful memories,
Your love is still our guide.
And although we cannot see you,
You are always at our side.

Our family chain is broken,
And nothing seems the same,
But as God calls us one by one,
The chain will link again.

Gene A. Green, was born Norma Jean Borenstein to the late Ethel Green and Norman Borenstein on July 28, 1956 in Washington, DC. They lived in Newark until after the riots when they moved to Orange, NJ.

Gene was a proud Tornado graduating from Orange High School, moving onto Bloomfield College where she graduated Magna Cum Laude. With her family having a strong military service background she felt the need to serve as well and she did so in the National Guard. She served proudly until she was medically discharged.

Gene worked many jobs but the two she was most proud of was testing administrator of Hudson County Community College and then Office Manager of Brooklyn Bureau of Community Service. She loved working at Hudson County Community College where she met colleagues that became more than friends they were like family. At the BBCS non-profit she enjoyed running the office and helping people get back on their feet.

If Gene wanted you under her wing she held you there and protected you from anyone and anything. She could be a bit of a hell raiser, with her strong willed personality you either loved or hated her and most loved her.

Gene lived many years at 244 William St in Orange until she moved to the senior residence on Thomas Blvd. She was called home September 12, 2020.

Gene lovingly referred to as Moo Moo did not have children however she loved her God children Tisa Singleton and Tommie "TJ" Martin as her own; as well as Quashawn, Aziz, Latisha Williams and Anita Simmons. She did her best to instill education, culture, and love of good food in them all.

Gene is preceded by her parents. Late brother Scott Borenstein and Uncle Theodore Green lovingly known as Uncle Teddy.

Gene is survived by her sisters Theresa (Husband John) and Ethel Borenstein, her nieces Anita Simmons and Tisa Singleton (Partner Cory Greene), her nephew Thomas McDonald (Wife Jasmine), her God Son Tommie Martin (Wife Jasmine), great nieces Tashonda, Reina, and Mia, great nephews Anthony, Cameron, and Aiden, numerous sisters and brothers not by blood but by love, with nieces, nephews, great nieces and nephews to match; as well as many cousins.
